STUDENT PROFILE

NAME: Amina

AGE: 22

SCHOOL: Pwani University

COURSE: Bachelor of Arts in Literature

Amina is 22 years old.

She is currently a student at Pwani University pursuing a Bachelor of Arts in Literature.

Amina has been a SAAS student since 2019, when she joined high school.

She has been working tirelessly to achieve her dream of becoming a teacher.

Amina is a resilient and diligent young woman who has never let life challenges deter her from dreaming big.

She is the fourth child in a family of five. She and her siblings live with their parents in a single room with neither power nor running water.

Due to their financial challenges, life has been challenging for the family. Amina's father works as a casual labourer on construction sites, while her mother sells vegetables in the Kongowea market. The little income the parents make is barely enough to meet their family's needs.

Going to school always posed a challenge, as her elder siblings had to drop out of school to engage in manual jobs to help provide for the family. At some point, she felt stranded, with her hopes dimming, knowing that she might drop out of school, too.

Despite the difficulties experienced, Amina has never let her guard down as she pursues her ambitions. Her academic progress is a testament to her hard work and our sponsors' invaluable support.

She finds joy in playing handball in her leisure time, which helps her unwind and stay active.
